CHAPTER VII.

CHUGG, comforted with liquids and soothed with a head plaster, presented himself at the Dax ranch just twenty-four hours after he was due. His men combined vagueness with hostility, and he harnessed up the stage that Peter Hamilton had driven over the day before, when his prospective passengers were looking, with a graphic pantomimic representation of "take it or leave it." Under the circumstances Miss Carmichael and the fat lady consented to be passengers with much the same feeling of finality that one might have on embarking for the planet Mars in an airship.

"Here's some bread and meat and a bottle of cold coffee, if you live to need it," was Mrs. Dax's grim prognostication of accident. Leader, being of an emotional nature, could scarce restrain his tears; the advent of the travelers had created a welcome variation in the monotony of his dutiful routine—he felt all the agitation of parting with lifelong friends. Mary Carmichael and Judith promised to write—they had found a great deal to say to each other the preceding evening.

Chugg cracked his whip ominously, and the travelers got inside, not daring to trust themselves to the box.

The journey with Chugg was but a repetition of that first day's staging—the sagebrush was scarier, the mountains seemed as far off as ever, and the outlook was, if possible, more desolate. The entry in Miss Carmichael's diary, inscribed in malformed characters as the stage jolted over ruts and gullies, reads: "I do not mind telling you, in strictest confidence, 'Dere Diary'—as the little boy called you—that when I so lightly severed my connection with civilization I had no idea to what an extent I was going in for the prairie primeval. How on earth does a woman who can write a letter like Mrs. Yellett stand it? And where on the map of North America is Lost Trail?"

The fat lady had never relaxed her gaze from Chugg's back since the stage had started. She peered at that broad expanse of flannel shirt through the tiny round window, like a careful sailing master sweeping the horizon for possible storm clouds. At every portion of the road presenting a steep decline she would prod Chugg in the back with the handle of her ample umbrella and demand that he let her out, as she preferred walking.

"Do you think you are a-pie-ickling, that you crave roamin' round these yere solitudes?" And he cracked his whip and adjured his team with cabalistic imprecations.

"Did you notice if Mrs. Dix giv' him any cold coffee, same as she did us?" anxiously inquired the fat lady from her lookout.

Mary hadn't noticed.

"He's drinking something out of a brown bottle; seems to relish it a heap more'n he would cold coffee," reported the watch. "Hi, there! Hi, Mr. Chugg!"

"Um-m-m!" he grunted savagely, applying a watery eye to the round window.

"Nothing," answered the fat lady, quite satisfied at having her worst fears confirmed.

Chugg returned to his driving as one not above the weakness of seeing and hearing things.

"Tain't coffee."

"Could you smell it?" questioned Mary anxiously.

"You never can tell that way when

"She's dancin' a whole lot over to Ervay."

getic crook in the knees and a certain furtive way of glancing over the shoulder as if anticipating missiles.

"Pshaw now, ladies! Why didn't you let me know that you was coming, and I'd have tidied up the place and organized a few dried apple pies."

"Where's your wife?" sternly demanded the fat lady.

"Oh, I presume she's dancin' a whole lot over to Ervay. She packed her ball gown in a gripsack and lit out of here two days ago, plint' that way. A locomotive couldn't stop her none if she got a chance to go cyclonin' round a dance."

After supper when the fat lady was so busy talking "goo-goo" language to the baby as to be oblivious of everything else Mary Carmichael took the opportunity to ask Johnnie if he knew anything about Lost Trail. The name of her destination had come to sound unpleasantly ominous in the ears of the tired young traveler, and she feared that her inquiry did not sound as casual as she tried to have it. Nor was Johnnie's candid reply reassuring.

"It's a pizen mean country, from all I ever heard tell. The citizens thereof consists mainly of coyotes and mountain lions, with a few rattlers thrown in just to make things neighborly. This yere place"—waving his hand toward the arid wastes which night was making more desolate—"is a summer resort, with modern improvements, compared to it."

Mary screwed her courage to a still more desperate point and inquired if Mr. Dax knew a family named Yellett living in Lost Trail.

"Never heard of no family living there excepting the bluff at family life maintained by the wild beasts before referred to. See here, miss, I ain't makin' no play to inquire into your affairs, but you ain't thinkin' o' visitin' Lost Trail, be you?"

"Perhaps," said Mary faintly, and then she, too, talked "goo-goo" to the baby.

All that long and never to be forgotten night the stage lurched through the darkness with Mary Carmichael the solitary passenger. The fat lady had warned Johnnie Dax that he was on no account to replenish Chugg's flask if he had the wherewithal for replenishment on the premises. Johnnie, hurt to the quick by the unjust suspicion that he could fail so signally in his duty to a lady, not only refused to replenish the flask, but threatened Chugg with a conditional vengeance in the event of accident befalling the stage. It was with a partially sobered and much threatened stage driver, therefore, that Mary continued her journey after the supper at Johnnie Dax's, but the knowledge of it brought scant reassurance, and it is doubtful if the red stage ever harbored any one more wakeful than the pale, tired girl who watched all the changes from dark to dawn at the stage window.

The hoofs of the horses beat the night away as regularly as the ticking of a clock. It grew darker as the night wore on and sometimes a coyote would yelp from the fringe of willows that bordered a creek in a way that made Mary recall tales of banshees. And once, when the first pale streak of dawn trembled in the east and the mountains looked like jagged rocks, heaved against the sky and in danger of toppling, the whole dread scene brought before her one of Vedder's pictures that hung in the shabby old library at home.

They breakfasted somewhere and Chugg put fresh horses to the stage. She knew this from their difference of color; the horses that they had left the second Dax ranch with had been white, and these that now toiled over the sand and desolation were apparently brown. She could not be certain that they were brown, or that they were toiling over the sand and desolation, or that her name was Mary Carmichael, or indeed of anything. Four days in the train and what seemed like four centuries in the stage eliminated any certainty as to anything. She could only sit huddled in a heap and wait for things to become adjusted by time.

Chugg was behaving in a most exemplary manner. He drove rigidly as an automaton, and apparently he looked no longer on the "lightning" when it was bottled. Once or twice he had applied his eye to the pane that separated him from his passenger and asked questions relative to her comfort, but Mary was too utterly dejected to reply in more than monosyllables. As they crept along, the sun dried timbers of the stage creaked and groaned in seeming protest at wearing its life away in endless journeyings over this desert waste, then settled down into one of those maddeningly monotonous riterations to which certain inanimate things are given in seasons of nervous tension. This time it was, "All the world's a stage—creak—creak—all the world's a stage—creak—creak!" over and over till Mary found herself fast succumbing to the hypnotic effect of the constant monition.

VICTORIOUS ENTRY

Admiral Togo Receives the Plaudits of Japanese Capital.

PRaised BY EMPEROR

The Victor of Japan's Great Naval Battles Was Given a Heart-Warming Welcome by the People.

Public Entry Into Tokio Will Be Made Memorable in the Annals of Japan.

Tokio, Oct. 23.—Sunday was made memorable in the annals of Japan by the public entry of Admiral Togo, who came to report to the emperor the return of his fleet from the war. The distinguished naval officer arrived at the Shimabashi station at 10:30 a. m. He was met by ministers of state, generals, admirals, members of the diplomatic corps and hundreds of officials and private citizens, who extended him a warm welcome to the capital. He was accompanied by his staff, and Admirals Kataoka, Kamimura and Dewa, together with their respective staffs.

VICE ADMIRAL HEIHACHIRO TOGO

The party entered five imperial carriages placed at their disposal and led by his majesty's aide, Admiral Inouye, drove direct to the palace, reaching there at 11 o'clock, when they were received in audience by the emperor. Admiral Togo's carriage, escorted by a bodyguard of troopers, passed through a triumphal arch in front of the railway station. The streets were lined with an admiring crowd who shouted hearty huzzas as the party passed along. The ring of the enthusiastic cheers, mingled with the noise of the bands, was audible for a great distance.

General Sakuma detailed three battalions of guards of honor. The battalions were composed of men from the Tokio garrison and were under command of Major General Togo. Four guns located at Hibiya park fired salutes. The day was a beautiful one and all Tokio was out, irrespective of age, to welcome the victor of the battle of the Sea of Japan. Admiral Togo, after his audience with the emperor, returned to his ship.

In receiving Admiral Togo's report the emperor warmly praised the service rendered by him, his officers and men.

HOW PARRY SEES IT

Head of Manufacturers' Association
Decries the President's Program.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared today that the proposed plan to confer on the government the power to fix and adjust railroad freight rates is socialistic. He denied, however, that he is heading a movement to fight President Roosevelt on the subject. During his interview he said: "I see that I am being criticised by railroad attorneys because of the publicity which I am giving to my efforts to defeat the socialistic proposition of the government going into the business of fixing the prices on transportation. I do not care one iota for any criticism from railroad attorneys, and I am not interested myself in this matter on account of the railroads. This interstate commerce question is no longer, to my mind, a question of being for or against the railroads, but a question of whether or not the government is going to make a radical departure in a socialistic direction."

"As for publicity of my views, that is the very thing I seek, and the greater the publicity of ideas which show up the dangerous character of the government rate-making proposition, the greater the likelihood of ultimate sane conclusions in railroad legislation."

"A week has not yet passed since I began to make efforts to secure the attendance of conservative, thoughtful men, representative of the business interests, at the coming interstate commerce law convention to be held in Chicago on the 26th, and I may as well acknowledge here that I have received a hearty response from organizations all over the country, which goes to show that there will be a good attendance of delegates opposed to the government rate-making principle at the convention."

The participation of Vice President Fairbanks in a meeting at which an appeal was made for support for the Republican city ticket here, brought forth the following editorial comment from a local paper which is backing Bookwalter's campaign: "The participation of Vice President Fairbanks in Friday night's meeting is peculiarly appropriate and potent. Inasmuch as Mr. Fairbanks expects, as he has the right to expect and will receive, a united delegation in his favor at the next national Republican convention in its choice for president, he has done wisely and well in lending his aid to a united party in Indianapolis at this time. In his long and useful public career Mr. Fairbanks has never shown himself to better advantage as a man of sound judgment and resolute decision than now. There are powerful influences that have operated to hold him back; but he has had the courage to do the right thing; and his example will carry weight." The tone of the editorial has caused much comment among party leaders.

Governor Hanly said today that he will accept the resignation of the two Richmond police commissioners who wrote him a belligerent letter Saturday, denouncing his reform policy as a sham. He also said he will back up Police Chief Gorman without regard to the factional strife in the Richmond city campaign. He declared that an effort has been made within the police commission to force Gorman to use his office in favor of one side in the campaign, and that as chief executive he had been forced to stand by him. He asserted that no police force should be dragged into partisan service. He sent a telegram to Gorman instructing him to enforce the law without regard to politics or factional differences. The governor declared that Gorman's enemies imported a woman to Richmond for the purpose of involving him in some way. Such a scheme, he concluded, is inconsistent with the principles of common decency.

Senator Albert J. Beveridge has received word from the publishers of his new book, "The Young Man and the World," informing him that it is enjoying a fine sale and is already in its second edition. Arrangements are also being made to publish it in French and German, indicating that it has attracted very wide attention. The book seems to have made the senator a great favorite with young men all over the country, as he says there is scarcely a day that passes without someone from another state dropping into his office for a brief call during which the book is discussed. Although no hints to that effect have been given out, it would not be surprising if the public should be given another book soon by Senator Beveridge, as it is understood that he has the material under consideration. He will remain in Indianapolis until after the city election.

Seeking to Effect a Reform.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—As predicted shortly after the removal of David E. Sherick as auditor of state because of a shortage in his accounts, Governor Hanly has set on foot a movement to create a sentiment making it possible to enact a law to prevent the lending of public money by county and state officials. He says that the county and township officials have on hand sometimes as much as $13,000,000, which would net the state $260,000 annually if interest of 2 per cent were received. He would create a state board of finance to handle the state funds and a county board for county funds, and then let the money at the best terms for the public. He has not fully worked out a plan, but he is giving it close attention. He is determined to do what he can to end the present system.

TO FORTIFY CITY

Antwerp Will Be Put in Shape to Resist Naval Attack.

BELGIUM IS AROUSED

Government Will Be Asked to Fortify
Ancient City So That It May Be Impregnable From Sea.

King Leopold's Administration of Congo Affairs Will Also Be Scrutinized.

Brussels, Oct. 23.—The autumn session of parliament now in session promises to be an eventful one. The question of fortifying Antwerp and making that city practically impregnable against a naval attack is the first important matter to be considered. The plan of the government for a new advanced line of fortifications will entail an expenditure of $21,800,000, and in conjunction with the building of these fortifications it is proposed to enlarge the Antwerp docks to about twice their present size. The government bill probably will pass, notwithstanding the opposition to the heavy expense.

The question of the definite status of the Congo independent state also will be considered. The impression prevails in diplomatic circles that the governments of Great Britain and Germany wish to terminate the reign of King Leopold as absolute sovereign of the Congo independent state and to oblige Belgium to definitely annex the state. It is probable that if asked to take final action both houses of parliament will give substantial majorities to the annexation of the Congo as an integral part of the kingdom of Belgium.

Cunliffe Talks.

Pittsburg, Oct. 21.—Edward George Cunliffe, the express robber, in a long interview in a local paper, declares that he took the odd $1,000 with which he is charged, in addition to the $100,000 package. He shipped the $80,000 in a suitcase to Bristol, he said, in care of the express company, figuring that as the most unlikely place the detectives would search, and when questioned as to the $11,000 still missing, evaded reply by railing against the fates which led to the discovery of the $80,000.

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug purpose root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.

Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective and protect the stomach from functional disturbance.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not nor ever was a "patent medicine," but it is the carefully wrought out and thoroughly tested result of a real physician in a real practice.

Dr. Pierce's unparalleled success with this remedy was such that more wanted to use it than any one doctor could attend to in a private practice. This induced him to manufacture it on a sufficiently liberal scale to meet the demand.

By his own special processes, he extracts, combines and preserves the medicinal qualities of the several ingredients without the use of alcohol (using chemically pure glycerine instead), thus rendering it absolutely safe for any woman of any age and in any condition to use freely. The names of the ingredients are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root.

Miss May Rohrbach, No. 73 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, Treasurer of the Woman's Progressive Union, writes:

"I had headache, backache, and was very nervous; scarcely able to sleep more than two hours at a time. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and was delighted with the result. Within a week I was sleeping splendidly. Continued using the 'Favorite Prescription' for eight weeks, and then stopped, for I was perfectly well. Ever since then your medicine has been my 'Favorite Prescription'; too, I recommend it to every one."

Constipation although a little ill, gets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had an acid discharge and pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad as a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, that should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

REV. J. F. BAIRD

Stricken in His Pulpit at Cincinnati Sunday.

The announcement of the sudden death of Rev. J. F. Baird at Cincinnati Sunday was a sad message for his many friends in this city where he was the beloved pastor of the Presbyterian church a few years ago.

He had just concluded his morning sermon at the Linwood Presbyterian church of which he was pastor, having preached a beautiful and powerful discourse on "Peace," and was announcing the closing hymn when he was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage resulting in his death at 4 p. m. Of his death the Cincinnati Tribune says:

"Dr. Baird had concluded his morning sermon and was on the point of retiring from the pulpit when the fatal stroke came. The horror-stricken congregation sat mute and unable to move for a moment as they saw a purple flush spread over the face of their beloved pastor, but as he swayed in his sudden weakness several members of the church hastened to him and led him to the chair in the chancel. Still conscious, he protested that he was only a sufferer from temporary exhaustion, and begged that the benediction be pronounced."

With bowed head, drooping more and more as he listened, the good man slowly sank into a comatose stupor as Elder Frank Morse pronounced a benediction.

"Almost immediately he was taken to his home, in Reeves Place, Linwood, and though skilled medical service was given, Dr. Baird never recovered consciousness."

"With his wife at his side, as the afternoon waned and twilight came, with an expression of utter repose on his features, he died."

A long distance telephone message from Cincinnati Monday stated that the body would be taken to Charles town, Ind., for burial next Thursday, the train leaving Cincinnati at 8 a. m. Several will go from Seymour to attend the funeral.

Dr. Baird was about fifty years of age. For some years after he completed his college course he was a professor at Hanover College. He was pastor here for several years and later pastor at North Vernon. In 1899 he became pastor of the Linwood Presbyterian church at Cincinnati. Wherever he labored he won the hearts of the people and accomplished great good.

What to Read in November.

Caroline Duer's new novel, "Cinderella of the Garden House," appears complete in Lippincott's Magazine for November. Young men and women as well as those of more mature taste find an appealing quality in fiction from the pen of this writer. Her people talk and move like really live human beings and her scenes take a grip on the memory that refuses to let go. The "Cinderella" of Miss Duer's creation is a young American girl who is making a tour of Europe in the train of an uncongenial stepmother. At Rome the prototype fairy godmother appears and soon the prince draws near—and thereby hangs the story.

Misses Lena Cramer, of Indianapolis; Minnie Cramer, Emma Schmidt, Alma Grelle, Edward Schmidt and Henry Steinkopf spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Anna Burbrink at Peterswitch.

I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since I find they have no equal." W. F. Peter Drug Co. guarantee them at 50c.

A CLEANING PROMISED

New York's "Tenderloin" Subject of Stringent Police Orders.

New York, Oct. 23.—In order to correct an impression that the police of the "tenderloin" section had been instructed to arrest all unescorted women found in the streets at night, Police Commissioner McAdoo visited the station house last night and made a long address to the force. He read the sections of the law on the subject and told the men that he expected them to arrest all improper characters, but that the mere fact of a woman being alone did not justify her arrest and that he would deal severely with any policeman found interfering with a respectable woman.

The commissioner said in the course of his address: "No one's rights will be illegally interfered with, but this precinct can and will be made clean. There are no difficulties in the way which cannot be overcome with legal methods. This precinct is in the very heart of the commercial and social capital of the Western Hemisphere. It is a disgrace to the city, its morals and civilization that an ulcer such as this should exist in the very center of its greatest activities."

"We are bound not only to protect our own citizens, but the vast army of visitors from these corrupting influences and unseemly sights."

"You are combating great influences in enforcing these laws; the owners of the property who reap large profits from the base and criminal uses to which it is put; the various business interests which thrive on the profligacy and prodigality of vice and who are complaining that with them trade is dull, and lastly and more potent than all, those men who have grown rich on crime and vice, to whom it is a legitimate industry, whose millions are stained with the blood and tears of wretched women and outcast men, who own the large Raines law hotels where the woman is first robbed of the price of her infancy and when she is arrested is compelled to pay them for the bond that releases her. Rich and influential, swaggering and blustering, these captains of the industry of vice and crime reach out their influences into the most unexpected quarters. They do not want a police captain here whom they cannot own, and even now they and their hirelings are threatening political disaster to the honest head of the city government for maintaining in office a police commissioner who is not afraid of them."

The commissioner exhorted the men to be loyal to their commander, Captain Dooley, in whom he said he had the fullest confidence.

Seven Were Drowned.

Beverly, N. J., Oct. 23.—A launch, containing ten men, all of Philadelphia, collided with a barge in the Delaware river off this place late Sunday afternoon, resulting in the drowning of seven of the occupants of the little boat. The other three were rescued by the crew of the tugboat Bristol, which was towing the barge when the accident happened.

A Daredevil Ride. Often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Black Creek Coal. We are placing with all the dealers in Seymour a large supply of our Celebrated Green County Black Creek Coal of which you are all familiar. This coal is screened over a Shaker Screen, is absolutely clean and free from all impurities, contains a large per cent of fixed carbon, makes a strong heat, light ash and positively does not clinker. The price is very reasonable. If you are not already a user, fall in line with the great majority and be happy.

The Young Man and The World

BY SENATOR ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE.

PLAIN COMMON SENSE.

Few men have been held so highly by the young men of the country as is Senator Beveridge.

Rarely has the career of any one been so encouraging to the young man who expects to "do something."

Why? Flowboy at 12; logger at 14; graduated from college, De Pauw, at 23; plainman, law clerk, lawyer; United States Senator at 36—that is what Senator Beveridge, poor and without a pull, has done by sheer pluck and hard work. And his steady conservative work in the senate has won him the equal regard of older men also.

No other man could be better equipped than Senator Beveridge to talk with young men about what they are going to do with their lives.

It is concentrated common sense. It does not preach, scold nor advise tiresomely. It reads like friends talking together.

I counsel cordially. It speaks encouragingly, as comrade to comrade. Full of incident, brilliant with illustration, it reads like a story. It is as forcible, vigorous and healthy as the man himself. No young man of ambition can afford to be without it. It is practically helpful—it gets down to the ABC of living. Not a father nor a mother should fail to put it into the hands of their boys—it will inspire them and fascinate while it inspires. You will read it through if you begin it.

There are twelve chapters—every one of them loaded with that American wisdom called common sense. And the book is bright—not a dull page, not a dull paragraph, not a dull line. It is written in the Indiana Senator's best style, and the man who cannot get new vigor in reading its crisp chapters is not a live American. It is not only a brilliant book and a practical book—it is a big book, a big-hearted, big-brained book. It is the frankest kind of a talk between a United States Senator who has been through the mill himself and every young man who must go through the mill himself. It is a talk with the young man of the young man's country by its most prominent young man.

AGENTS WANTED—Splendid opportunity for agents on Senator Beveridge's great book! It should go into every family where there is a son. Send for outfit and terms. Special territory assigned. Price $1.50 Net. Postage Additional.

A WAY OPEN.

Many A Seymour Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Seymour people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like of which has never been produced before in Seymour. Read this case of it given by a citizen: Mrs. Atlas Shannon of Third street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me positive relief from the dull dragging pain in my back, banished the extreme sensitiveness over the loins which caused sharp twinges when stooping or moving quickly and removed the restlessness nights besides strengthening the renal organs that I was no longer embarrassed by the kidney secretions. I was greatly gratified by the satisfactory results I obtained and my advice to others is to go to Milbous drug store and procure Doan's Kidney Pills if in need of a remedy of this nature."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 2nd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a high difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

CORYDON is planning a celebration of the nineteenth anniversary of the admission of Indiana to statehood. This celebration will be sometime in June 1906 and will be a state affair. It is the plan to have the meeting under the old constitutional elm that still stands. Such a meeting should appeal to the people of Indiana generally and be the means of bringing together a great crowd in the old capital of the state.

GOVERNOR HANLY has sent out letters of inquiry to learn what county treasurers and township trustees do with the surplus cash they have on hand. Wonder how many of them reported their loans and the amount of interest they receive and do not turn over to the county treasury. There are some counties in the state that have for years supplied the surplus to run favored banks and the public never got the benefit of any interest.

S.S.S. OUR RECORD

With medicines as with other things, the surest test of worth is the length of time they have the confidence of the people. The efficacy of S. S. S. has been thoroughly proven by experience, and so successful has it been that today it is the best known and most widely used blood remedy in the world. For diseases such as Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, and other troubles due to an impure and poisoned condition of the blood, no remedy acts so promptly and thoroughly as does S. S. S., and thousands throughout the country, cured of such diseases, are daily recommending it to others similarly afflicted. ITS FORTY YEARS OF EXISTENCE HAVE BEEN FORTY YEARS OF CURES. S. S. S. is a blood purifier of the highest order, containing properties necessary to cure blood troubles of every character, and which make it the greatest of all tonics. It goes into the blood and drives out any and all impurities, and makes this stream of life strong and healthy, and when this is done disease cannot remain. Being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, chosen for their healing, purifying and building-up properties, it does not injure any of the delicate organs or tissues of the body as do those medicines which contain Potash, Mercury, Arsenic or other harmful minerals, but cures safely as well as permanently. S. S. S. reaches deep-seated and inherited cases on which the ordinary Sarsaparilla and tonics have no effect. It is no experiment to use S. S. S.; it is a remedy with a record; it has proven its worth and ability by its forty years of cures. If you need a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S.; write us about your case and let our physicians advise you and send back on the blood, no charge for either.

The President Got Rest of Which He Was in Need.

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 23.—President Roosevelt started last night for his tour of Alabama. He left St. Augustine at 9 o'clock and is not scheduled to make a stop of any length until he reaches Mobile this afternoon at 4:30. His day in St. Augustine was quiet. He attended services in Presbyterian Memorial church at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. James Coffin Stout, made no reference to the president in his sermon. The church was crowded. At the conclusion of the services the president was taken for a short drive about the city. After luncheon the president, accompanied by Secretary Loebe, Surgeon General Rixey, John McIlhenny and John Greenway, the last two of whom have been his guests on the trip south, drove to Fort Marion, where they boarded a launch and went to Anastasia, an island. Here the party donned bathing suits and had a bath in the salt water.

The president greatly enjoyed the bath and seemed in excellent condition to tackle the hard work that lies before him this week. St. Augustine was full of strangers Sunday, attracted by the president.

A large crowd lingered around his hotel all day, anxious to catch a glimpse of him. He received but few visitors, however, and got the rest of which he stood in need. This week will see the end of his trip. After visiting Mobile today he will spend Tuesday at Tuskegee, Montgomery and Birmingham. Wednesday he will devote to Little Rock, Ark., and Thursday he will visit New Orleans, leaving that evening on a government vessel for Washington.

PASSENGERS STAMPEDED

Three-Cornered Pistol Fight on a New York Trolley Car.

New York, Oct. 23.—Three men fought a battle with pistols on an Eighth Avenue car Sunday, and all of them were seriously injured. While the fight was being waged the car ran at top speed for half a mile, with the gong sounding an alarm and the passengers lying flat on the floor to escape the shower of bullets.

Thomas O'Brien, a truckman, jumped aboard the car at Thirty-first street, and, clapping a revolver to the conductor's head, ordered him to run the car full speed, as he was pursued by a gang who intended to kill him. A moment later two more leaped on the car and attacked the first, all three using revolvers. When their weapons were empty they clinched and fought with the butts of their pistols. The car rushed along the avenue, the motor man pounding the gong and the conductor shouting for the police, as far as Twenty-sixth street, where several policemen boarded it and seized the three combatants, all of whom were too badly injured to offer any resistance.

O'Brien was found to have received a bullet in the neck. His assailants gave the names of Henry Prang and Thomas Sullivan. The former had been shot in the neck and the latter in the leg and arm. The three were taken to a hospital.

O'Brien refused to explain why the other two attacked him. The police think the fight was the outcome of a feud in a notorious Westside gang.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

"I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by different physicians for my trouble without results. I went to a physician in Memphis, who claimed that I had dropsy of the heart. He put the X-ray on me and in connection with his medicine he came near making a hash of me. Some time before this a Mr. Young, of St. Louis, was in our town. He saw my condition, and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to me. I gave it little attention until my return from Memphis, when I concluded to try it, and am pleased to say three bottles cured me."

TRAGEDY AT STREET FAIR

Gambling House Feud Ends in a Shooting at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 23.—Pleasant Cooksey, a notorious colored gambler, was fatally shot Saturday night by Nelson White, another negro, with whom he had a long-standing feud. Cooksey was proprietor of the Hotel Boys' club, a colored resort recently incorporated to evade police orders against gambling. The trouble dates from the time White alleges he was fleeced in the club rooms.

The men met near the Wild West exhibition of the street fair, and the shots did not attract attention. White put his revolver in his pocket and walked through the crowded street to the place where he is employed. He says Cooksey has repeatedly threatened to kill him.

His Troubles Overcame Him.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 23.—Unable to withstand the terrible strain under which he had been suffering since his second wife brought suit for divorce from him Thursday, James K. Everson, one of the best-known business men of this city, became violently insane at the Ramsey hotel, and it required six men to overpower him and take him to the jail. It is stated upon reliable authority that Mrs. Everson has withdrawn her suit for divorce. Everson is confined at the jail, where he is constantly under guard.

Two children, Jennie Russell, aged ten, and Harvey James, aged thirteen, were killed instantly. Seven other people were seriously injured. Mrs. Lydia Morrison, one of the injured who was taken to St. Vincent's hospital here, died shortly before midnight.

Stabbing May Cause Death.

Frankfort, Ind., Oct. 23.—Walter Pauley of this city and George Wallace became engaged in a fight, in which Wallace used his knife with awful effect upon Pauley, the last blow taking effect under the shoulder blade on the left side and the blade penetrating the lung. Wallace then ran, leaving the knife in the body of his victim. Pauley was taken to the hospital, where he lies in a critical condition. Wallace was placed in jail to await the result of the injuries to Pauley.
